Thanks Dan,

I have clicked on the URL you gave us. It takes me to a blank page connected with my personal Gmail account. I also tried to add an account on my Google system. I have at least two active Google accounts already. When I put the user email address in the system said it didn't exist. HELP!!

Thanks,
Carol

Hello all and CONGRATULATIONS on your new roles!

I am pleased that you are on board and look forward to working with you.

Below are the two Board emails we have set up for you to use for your Board service work.

Simply click on this link and use your designated email address (below) as a login, and the password supplied below. Google will ask you to create your own personal password for use with this account, so choose one that feels nice and secure to you.
